Brighter Than Before

Hope carried together and shared possibility - a community SongBridge practice

VERSE 1

Chalk dusted fingertips
Sunlight bouncing off the spokes
Tomatoes climbing chain-link fences
Murals peppering the roads

Someone tuning up a guitar
At the table by the trees
Another sketching bigger futures
On the back of grocery receipts

And the old men by the garden
Laugh like they have seen this bloom
Every small thing leaning upward
Like the whole street found more room

PRE-CHORUS

What if
The places that we share
Could grow more alive than ever?

What if
Ordinary days held
More color than survival?

CHORUS

Because
Hope grows brighter when it's carried
And joy moves farther hand to hand

Then
Empty corners turn to gathering places
Built up by greeting and delight

Because
People shine in different weather
When every voice has room to ring

Now
Look what becomes possible
When a whole town learns to wake big dreams

Lanterns swinging from the market
Paint beneath the fingernails
Teenagers leading younger children
Through the stories on the rails

Someone teaching bread and language
Someone teaching how to weld
Someone planting little orchards
Where abandoned concrete held

And the woman at the corner
Hands out seedlings wrapped in news
Says, 'Nothing living stays small forever
Once enough hands help it through'

What if
Belonging felt as natural
As sitting in the evening light?

What if
People lingered long enough
To help a whole place come alive?

CHORUS

Because
Beauty grows where it is practiced
And streets remember how to sing

Then
Sidewalks bloom with invitation
Windows open into spring

Because
Young hearts carry wild imagination
And older hands remember how

Then
Little by little
Block by block
Something brighter starts becoming now

BRIDGE

Not someday
Not perfect
Not after everything is fixed

Just one mural
One garden
One long table in the sun

And another
And another

Until the air itself feels different

Like a tide turning quietly
Like a wave no one can stop
Rolling farther than expected
'Til the dreams begin to wake

FINAL CHORUS

Because
Hope grows stronger when it's shared
And stories travel farther than fear

Then
Neighborhoods become living canvases
And strangers turn familiar here

OUTRO

Morning light on open doorways
Paint and jasmine in the breeze
Every small thing leaning upward
Like the whole street learned to breathe
